

OUR CLIMATE MOMENT™

— LET'S GET TO WORK —

With supportive federal leadership, we have the chance to think big and act boldly. To confront the climate crisis threatening our future. To get workers and families devastated by the pandemic back on their feet. To finally face the racial injustice destroying the dreams and lives across the country.

In 2021, the Our Climate Moment™: Let's Get to Work campaign will mobilize activists across the country to build unrelenting pressure on Congress and the Biden administration to act quickly on targeted policy solutions to address the urgent climate crisis. The good news is that the White House is with us and the majority of Americans are with us.

The Our Climate Moment™ campaign will prioritize ambitious policy solutions in each of the five following areas (pictured right).

The campaign aims to help jumpstart a just, green recovery for all Americans. Together, we'll build pressure on federal officials to take bold climate action, join forces with fellow environmental advocacy groups in a coalition to win, and make sure all of our voices are heard in demanding a cleaner, greener future.

Like so much of our work, Climate Reality chapters are making it happen by building a campaign team, mapping their communities, and fighting environmental injustices preventing the demand for change at the federal level. Not a part of your chapter? Making this change is up to us. So, let's get to work.
